Halloween revellers destroy various street and University signs as a mob of about 300 students moved down South Illinois Avenue Sunday morning, above. A number of rowdy students tear down part of the McAndrew Stadium fence later the same morning to get to the playing field to tear down goal posts, which had been removed, right.

Students take Strip

Revellers use violence, damage property

University students closed down South Illinois Avenue Friday and Saturday night, breathing life into a dying Carbondale Halloween party. Unlike Halloween night when violence and arrests were minimal as students claimed the Strip, the homecoming weekend parties were marred by violence and property damage. Revellers made their way to McAndrew Stadium attempting to pull down the goal posts in the early hours of Saturday and Sunday morning. SIUC Police Director Bob Harris said the groups who went to the stadium both nights were after the goal posts. Along the way they damaged street signs and broke the windows out of a van, Harris said. Police have tried to prevent people from blocking the street, but were forced to close South Illinois Avenue at 1:30 Saturday morning. Gary Berge, a liberal arts student at John A. Logan College, said the crowd held a countdown and rushed the street. Police briefly tried to clear the street by using Mace. "They (the police) started macing everyone," Berge said. "I

SIUC insurance doesn't cover all hospital bills

By Brandi Tipps
Staff Writer

Students who go to Memorial Hospital of Carbondale for emergency room treatment could end up footing the bill even if they have student health insurance.

"If a student goes to the emergency room for a non-urgent condition, then only $35 of the cost of the visit is covered by SIUC insurance," said Jake Baggott, Health Service administrator. "If a student goes to the emergency room during the day, and the health service is open, then the visit is not covered at all."

The exception to the rule is if it is a trauma case or if real emergency care is needed as in the case of an automobile accident, he said.

Wayne Wallace, senior in cinema and photography found out the hard way.

"I hurt my foot and the nurse at the emergency room made me call the nurse at the Health Service to see if it was a legitimate injury to be treated at the hospital," Wallace said.

Secretary seeks out united front

United Press International

Secretary of State James Baker, telling troops the future of the Persian Gulf crisis is uncertain, traveled through the Middle East Sunday, seeking a united allied front in case Iraqi occupiers must be pushed out of Kuwait.

As Baker embarked on his eight-nation, seven-day trip to the Middle East and Europe, King Hussein of Jordan arrived in Paris for a meeting with French President Francois Mitterrand.

Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz spoke with Hussein in Amman before the king left for Paris, Amman Radio reported. Diplomats said Iraq is trying to divide the allies confronting Iraq over its Aug. 2 invasion of Kuwait and had targeted France and the Soviet Union in particular.

In Washington, House Democratic leader Richard Gephardt of Missouri said that President Bush has support at home for his gulf strategy.

"I don't think anybody wants a war or a protracted war," Gephardt said, on the NBC news program "Meet the Press."

AWOL Army reservist arrested

By Natalie Boehme
Staff Writer

Stephanie Atkinson, declared absent without leave from the Army on Oct. 15, has been arrested.

James She'll, public affairs officer at Forest Park, said that although Atkinson has been reported as deserter, she still officially is considered AWOL.

Desertion requires an absence of 30 days or more, while AWOL is less than 30 days.

Atkinson has been AWOL for at least 17 days.

She'll said the U.S. Army Command only knows specifics which have been covered by the media.

She'll said his office is under the impression the arrest actually took place on Nov. 1 since it was in the papers on Nov. 3.

"Atkinson's warrant for AWOL was issued by Ft. Benjamin Harrison," She'll said.

"Right now, however, we do not know if Atkinson is being contained at Ft. Benjamin

Stephanie Atkinson

Harrison, Ft. Leonard Wood or by the Jackson County sheriff," he said.

No one was available from any of these institutions for further information as to Atkinson's current location.

Atkinson, a member of the Fairfield Army Reserve unit, joined the Army in 1984 to help pay for college.

She graduated in December from SIUC with an English degree.

Atkinson was informed of her unit's activation on Oct. 10, and was told to report to Ft. Sheridan in Highland Park on Oct. 18. Atkinson never arrived at Ft. Sheridan and she was declared AWOL on Oct. 15.

Atkinson has said she did not join her unit because she is opposed to war and violence.

She'll said that if Atkinson is truly a conscience objector there are easier ways in the military to get a discharge.

"People are often discharged from the Army on grounds of consciences objection," She'll said. "Atkinson handled this in a very unintelligent manner."

She'll also said he is curious as to the reasons Atkinson recently re-enlisted if she is a consciences objector.

"I think she used this as an excuse since she was called on duty," She'll said.

She'll said Atkinson will be taken to Ft. Knox, Kentucky for trial since Ft. Knox handles all AWOL and deserter trials.

Salukis fall short against WIU 24-22

Senior receiver Ransom Funches races to the end zone for the Salukis second touchdown in the second quarter Saturday against Western Illinois at McAndrew Stadium.

By Paul Pabst
Staff Writer

With just minutes left against Western Illinois Saturday, the Salukis were driving, poised to make another thrilling comeback in front of more than 12,000 at McAndrew Stadium.

Down 24-22, the Saluki offense drove the ball to the WIU 26-yard line. It was third-and-four. One more play and kicker Steve Wedemeier could come in and boot the Dawgs to a victory with a 43-yard field goal. He had already kicked a 47-yarder earlier.

Junior quarterback Brian Downey dropped back to pass, to get Wedemeier a little closer so his attempt would be less effected by the strong wind in his face. A blitzing Leatherneck defender was in the backfield so quick, fans might have thought he was an extra SIUC running back. Downey was looking left, the defender was coming from his right. He never saw it coming. The defender dropped him like a three-foot putt.

The four-yard loss made it fourth down from the 30-yard line. Wedemeier's try would now be even longer. With the McAndrew Stadium crowd on its feet, Wedemeier launched a kick. It fell four yards shy of the crossbar and the Salukis Homecoming Day hopes fell with it.

"That sack was about the distance we missed the field goal by," Saluki head coach Bob Smith said. "It's that fine of a line between winning and losing. I thought our chances were good, especially since the wind had died down a little since the beginning of the game."

The beginning of the game was all SIUC after the Leathernecks opened the scoring with a field goal. Senior quarterback Fred Gibson got the nod as the starter and responded with a pair of early scoring drives.

Gibson, who hit on 10 of 17 passes for 162 yards, was perfect on the his first three passes of the Salukis first drive. He connected with junior receiver Ian Oliver, who ran past the Leathernecks for 125 yards on six catches. At the WIU 14-yard line the Salukis got on the scoreboard as Gibson tightrope a pass to freshman receiver Billy Swain who did a spectacular job of catching the pass and getting a toe down in the end zone before going out of bounds.

The Dawgs offense was being paced on the ground by senior Antonio Moore, who led the Salukis with 82 rushing yards and a late touchdown.

The Salukis got the ball right back and again blazed down field with passes to Oliver and senior Ransom Funches. The second score came as Gibson rolled to his right under tremendous pressure. Backpedalling, he lofted a screen to Funches on the left side. After Funches side stepped him, the Salukis lead 13-3.

Then something weird happened. The Salukis extra point try was blocked and run all the way back by WIU's Trevor Grimshaw. In a new rule instituted by the NCAA last year, this counts for two points for Western and it took away a usually easy point for SIUC.

Ironically the Dawgs lost by just two points.

"It was an upsetting loss," defensive coordinator Garry Hart said. "The two points on the blocked kick return did make a difference in the end."

Early on, the Saluki offense was fittingly being led by its seniors on Senior Day. Senior linebacker Brian "Ice Clamps" Miller was making his presence felt in the Leatherneck backfield on his way to 14 tackles. Senior linebacker Kevin Kilgallon stopped a WIU drive with an interception, while Tim Wells tipped away what looked to be a touchdown pass to end another Leatherneck drive.

"(Marty) Hochertz, Kilgallon, Wells, Miller all had good games and made big plays for us," Hart said. "They were standouts for us, just like they have been for a long time."

The Leatherneck offense woke up in the second quarter behind touchdown runs by Chuck Fox and Derek Swanson to give the Leathernecks the lead at 17-13.

A slow third quarter had a

Saluki hoops season tickets go on sale

By Eric Bugger
Sports Editor

While seats at Saluki football games weren't difficult to find, vacancies at Saluki basketball games might be scarce.

After producing one of its most exciting seasons in many years, the Saluki basketball team could find a packed Arena all season long.

Students, usually the most enthusiastic fans, will be able to begin picking their season ticket seats for the 1990-91 season at 7 a.m. Wednesday at the front lobby of the Arena. Only students with a Saluki Sports Pass and a valid SIUC identification card will be allowed to select seats.

One student may pick up a maximum of 10 season tickets with a sports pass and identification card for each ticket.

For students who didn't purchase a sports pass for the football or volleyball seasons, they may buy them for $20 at the ticket office in Lingle Hall next to the SIUC athletics department.

Season tickets offer fans 15 men's basketball home games and 13 women's basketball home games. At

Saluki volleyball team splits on road, hope to stay alive in Gateway race

By Julie Autor
Staff Writer

With only three Gateway Conference matches left until the playoffs, the Saluki volleyball team is still hoping for a finish in the upper half.

The Salukis lost to Western Illinois Friday night 15-2, 15-13 and 16-14, but then bounced back Saturday to beat Bradley for the 10th straight time 12-15, 15-8, 15-4 and 15-13.

The Spikers are 11-14 overall and 3-3 in the Gateway Conference.

The Western Illinois Westernwinds took SIUC by surprise with their first win over the Salukis since 1983. The Westernwinds were led by Rachel Horvat who had 10 kills and a .556 attack percentage.

Sophomore Dana Olden made 16 kills for SIUC and also contributed five digs and one block assist. Freshman Jodi Miller added 11 kills and sophomore Stacy Snook had 10 kills against Bradley.

Freshman Wendy Garrett made her second start against Bradley and helped the Salukis by making 46 assists to rank her eighth on the all-time assist leaders.

Olden had 18 kills against Bradley, barely missing her 400th kill for the season by one kill.

Back for more Gateway Conference play was junior Lori Simpson, the team's co-captain who was out for four matches with a severe ankle injury. Simpson added .444 hitting and two block assists.

The Salukis are still without the help of its other co-captain, junior Debbie Briscoe, who fractured her ankle two weeks ago. Briscoe led the team in digs and blocks before her injury.

SIUC finishes its conference matches this week against Eastern Illinois Tuesday and Northern Iowa and Drake this weekend at Davies.

Bucs turnover 26-6 victory to Bears

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — Rookie safety Mark Carrier keyed a defense that forced six turnovers and yielded just nine first downs Sunday, sparking the Chicago Bears to avengeful 26-6 rout of the reeling Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Carrier, a first-round pick out of Southern Cal, caused a fumble and intercepted two passes as the Bears built a 17-0 halftime lead and coasted. In averaging two losses to Tampa Bay last season, the 7-1 Bears registered five interceptions against Vinny Testaverde, the NFL's second-rated passer.

The bumbling Buccaneers fell to 4-5 with their fourth loss in five games. After turning the ball over eight times during their first six games, Tampa Bay has committed 18 turnovers in losing three straight.

Brad Muster ran 12 yards for a touchdown. Neal Anderson scored from 1 yard out and Dennis Gentry caught a 19-yard TD pass from Jim Harbaugh. Kevin Butler, who missed the extra-point attempt after Gentry's third-quarter score, added field goals of 30 and 22 yards.

Tampa Bay, which has lost 90 of 120 games since 1983, was blanked until Testaverde hit Bruce Perkins from 5 yards out 50 seconds into the final quarter. A bad snap led to a failed PAT, leaving the Bears ahead 26-6.

Chicago overcame three first-half fumbles by limiting Tampa Bay to two first downs before halftime. Testaverde, sidelined last week with a toe injury, completed 2 of 10 passes in the first half for 13 yards and three three interceptions.

Testaverde finished with 10 completions in 24 attempts for 149 yards and was booed lustily by the crowd of 68,575 in the second half.

Gentry's TD catch capped an 80-yard drive with the second-half kickoff. Harbaugh hit Anderson for 13 yards on third-and-eight and Rodney Rice was assessed a 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness following a 19-yard pass to Gentry.

Linemen Richard Dent then intercepted a Testaverde slant pass and returned 15 yards to midfield, leading to Butler's field goal and a 26-0 lead after three periods.

Muster triggered a 17-point second quarter by cutting back for a 28-yard gain to the 12 on his longest run of the year. Muster scored off left tackle on the next play to cap a 60-yard march and give the Bears a 7-0 lead at 4:10.

A Shaun Gayle interception was nullified when Chicago wide receiver Wendell Davis fumbled at the Tampa Bay 9 line following a 31-yard gain.

Three plays later, Carrier picked off an overthrown quick slant and returned 6 yards to the Buccaneers 22. Harbaugh rolled right and found Muster for 21 yards before Anderson cut back over right guard for a 14-0 advantage.

After Harbaugh fumbled the ball away, Carrier intercepted Testaverde again at midfield with 1:06 left in the half. Harbaugh's apparent 12-yard TD pass to James Thornton was ruled out of bounds in the right corner after a lengthy delay, forcing Chicago to settle for Butler's 30-yarder.

Carrier set the defensive tone on the game's first snap when his hit forced a fumble by Gary Anderson at the Buccaneers 24.

600 dolphins wash ashore in apparent suicide attempt

TOKYO (UPI) — Hundreds of dolphins beached themselves on a small Japanese island in the East China Sea in what appeared to be a suicide attempt, police said Sunday. About 600 dolphins were washed ashore at Fukuejima Island off Nagasaki on Japan's southernmost main island of Kyushu and refused to return to sea despite attempts by local fishermen to drive them away, a spokesman for the Nagasaki Prefectural Police Headquarters said. Officials denied a news report that hundreds of dolphins were driven to the beach by local fishermen and butchered to death for their meat.

52 Vietnamese boat people return for jobs

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI) — A group of Vietnamese boat people who fled their homeland seeking a better economic life returned voluntarily Sunday after receiving financial incentives under a U.N. repatriation program, officials said. The group of 52 were mainly farmers, fishermen, retailers, drivers and workers of odd jobs. Under terms of the repatriation program, the U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees has agreed to pay Vietnam a monthly cash allowance of $30 for each returnee for one year, and to help find housing, employment, and other material items to facilitate their reintegration.

Alaskans campaign to keep marijuana legal

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — A campaign to keep marijuana legal in Alaska has raised 10 times more money than the campaign to outlaw the drug on Tuesday's ballot, according to state election reports. In fact, after early polls showed a majority favored outlawing marijuana in the only state where it is legal, a group called Alaskans for Privacy launched a major campaign to keep pot legal. Alaskans for Privacy raised $123,656 for its cause, spending most of it on advertising to persuade voters to uphold the law and support Alaska's constitutional right to privacy.

Substance abuse high among attorneys

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — In light of a recent report that one out of every five attorneys suffers drug and alcohol dependency, professional groups are implementing a number of programs to deal with the problem. The survey also found one in five male lawyers, growing increasingly dissatisfied with their careers, consumes six or more drinks a day. Ray Lopez, director of the New York State Bar's Lawyers Assistance Program, said the profession itself makes attorneys vulnerable to substance abuse. "The job's a pressure cooker," he said.

Broadway musical star Mary Martin dies at 76

RANCHO MIRAGE, Calif. (UPI) — Mary Martin, whose Broadway roles as nurse Nellie Forbush in "South Pacific" and title role in the fantasy "Peter Pan" highlighted a 30-year career on the stage and screen, has died at her desert home, a spokesman said Sunday. She was 76. Martin died Saturday of cancer at her home in Rancho Mirage, a family spokesman said. Martin became a Broadway star in 1938, when she created a sensation with a sexy song in a Cole Porter musical called "My Heart Belongs to Daddy."

Train collision injures three, derails three locomotives

OREGON (UPI) — Two slow-moving Burlington Northern freight trains collided in northern Illinois early Sunday, derailing three locomotives and 11 cars and injuring three crew members, officials said. At least one of the engines caught fire but Oregon firefighters doused the blaze as a result of the accident that happened shortly after 6:30 a.m., authorities said. Burlington Northern officials said no toxic materials were involved. Police spokesman Al Winstead said six people from two homes directly south of the crash were evacuated "due to all the smoke."

Governor

Hartigan pledges to shift state funds for education

By Brian Gross
Staff Writer

Neil Hartigan believes state government can do a better job with the money it already has.

Hartigan, the Democratic candidate for governor, wants to make education a top priority but plans to increase funding for education by reallocating taxes people already pay.

In his plan, Hartigan would shift $380 million to education from other agencies, and he has pledged to give 25 percent of new revenues to education during his first year in office and 50 percent each year following.

Hartigan will not pull the plug on education funding, said Jim Burns, the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor and Hartigan's running mate.

Because Hartigan opposes the continuation of the temporary, two-year income tax surcharge, he has been criticized for wanting to abandon education, Burns said.

The surcharge raised $100 million for higher education and expires in June 1991.

Burns said he and Hartigan believe the state should not extend the surcharge because taxpayers agreed to a temporary tax only.

But Hartigan has made a long-term commitment to education by pledging percentages of new revenue growth to education, Burns said.

Edgar pledges no new taxes but wants income tax to stay

By Brian Gross
Staff Writer

Jim Edgar has pledged not to raise taxes but believes education needs a permanent income tax.

Edgar, the Republican candidate for governor, believes continuing the temporary income tax surcharge is vital to higher education in Illinois, said Dan Thornburgh, spokesman for Edgar.

The two-year surcharge expires in June 1991. The loss of the $100 million the tax generated would be "devastating" to the budgets of state universities and community colleges, Thornburgh said.

Because Illinois has lost its place in national higher education leadership, Edgar will work with the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the governing boards of the public universities to improve undergraduate education, Thornburgh said.

Edgar also will work to keep tuition and fee costs down provided that the surcharge is made permanent, Thornburgh said.

Edgar, 44, has served as the secretary of state since his appointment by Gov. James Thompson in 1981. He was elected in 1982 and re-elected in 1986.

As secretary of state, Edgar worked to decrease the number of drunk driving accidents.

His record in office includes 5,000 fewer

Independent candidate campaigns for equal opportunity

By Brian Gross
Staff Writer

Dr. Jessie Fields wants to reform elections dominated by the Democratic and Republican parties.

Independent parties should have the same opportunities as the Democrats and Republicans during campaigns so all interests can be equally represented, said Fields, the Illinois Solidarity Party candidate.

Under the current system, independent candidates are required to get more signatures on their petitions than the Democrats and Republicans, she said.

Fields also is challenging her exclusion from the debates between Neil Hartigan and Jim Edgar sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Her party is considering legal action and could have the League's tax exempt status revoked if it can be proved the

Jessie Fields

League acted in a partisan manner.

Fields, 34, is a physician with the Michael Reese Health Plan Evergreen Center in Chicago.

Born and raised in a poor community in south Philadelphia, Fields said she wanted to have an impact on social equality.

With problems in rising unemployment, health care and prison overcrowding, an independent option on the ballot is critical, Fields said.

"Who we're reaching out to is people tired of the major parties and tired of voting for the lesser of two evils," she said. "A lot of people are thrilled to vote for a third party candidate."

Fields is not running to win election but to gather 5 percent of the vote and keep her

New Madrid sleeps; awakening to come

SOUTHERN ILLINOISANS CAN breathe a little easier now they know they probably won't be shaking, rattling or rolling on Dec. 3, but earthquake preparedness should still be a priority.

Climatologist Iben Browning, the so-called quake quack that predicted the New Madrid Fault would be hit by a major earthquake in early December, had his theory rejected last month. The National Earthquake Prediction Evaluation Council said Browning's predicted date had no scientific basis.

SO MUCH FOR LEAVING CARBONDALE in early December. Scientist disagree when the big one is going to happen, but they all agree that the New Madrid Fault will experience a major quake this century.

And we must stay prepared. If a major quake were to hit, necessities we take for granted such as food, water and electricity would not be readily available.

THE UNIVERSITY'S DISASTER Emergency Response Committee said most people would have to survive 72 hours without assistance after a major earthquake.

Water, food, fuel for cooking, blankets, flash lights with spare batteries and a first aid kit to last the three days should be on hand.

Put a well-stocked 72-hour survival kit together now to prepare for an earthquake later on, whatever the date.

Dealers should pay for drug treatment

DRUG DEALERS SHOULD be hit where it hurts—in the pocketbook.

Dealers should pay not only in prison time but also in cash for their crimes. One Southern Illinois lawyer advocates this weapon in the war on drugs. It's a good way to do more than "just say no" by taking legal action against the culprits.

Drug dealers should pay for the cost of treatment programs for minors, programs which can cost thousands of dollars if hospitalization is required. Not only does treatment cost families money, but it also costs the federal government. In 1988, more than $3.5 billion was appropriated for education and treatment programs.

ILLINOIS HAS A LAW to make drug dealers pay—and it should be used. Under the Parental Right of Recovery Act, anyone who furnishes illegal drugs to a minor can be sued for damages including costs of drug treatment and rehabilitation programs.

If drug dealers are forced to pay for their crimes, perhaps the business will lose some of its appeal. Profit is the name of the game for drug dealers. Take away some of this profit by suing them for damages and the business will be less attractive.

Commentary

Public getting sick of politicians

Recently, in a deviation from Standard Journalism Procedure, I've been talking with members of the public. We journalists generally avoid members of the public because they always tell us that we get everything wrong, although in fact what they're usually talking about is insignificant errors such as identifying James Baker as "the governor of Connecticut," when he is technically the mayor of Connecticut.

So usually we journalists prefer to obtain our information about the public by watching it walk past our cafeteria windows. "The public appears guardedly optimistic today," we'll say.

But lately, because of car trouble, I have been in very close contact with the public and I've been able to "dig up" the following major "scoop":

THE PUBLIC IS FED UP WITH POLITICIANS.

Yes, if you don't believe me, just look around (Not NOW, you moron! at the end of the sentence!)

Many politicians are unable to appear in daylight because the public throws rocks at them. They're forced to campaign in the dead of night, sneaking into voters' houses, creeping into the nurseries, hastily kissing babies and then sprinting off into the darkness, trailed by aides carrying camouflaged briefcases.

Eighty-seven percent of the members of the U.S. Congress now

Dave Barry

Tribune Media Services

wear special armored socks because they keep getting bitten BY THEIR OWN DOGS.

In a dramatic example of the mounting voter backlash against incumbents, the two-term governor of Oklahoma was recently defeated by a jar of totally inexperienced mayonnaise.

Yes, our elected leaders are "feeling the heat," but is this really fair?

Should the public tar all of the apples in the political barrel with the same broad brush just because a few rotten eggs are crying over spilt milks? Of course not. The truth is that there are a great many politicians who are honest, trustworthy, intelligent, hard-working, decent and competent.

Unfortunately, they are all located on the planet Zoombah. The ones here on Earth are dumptards.

Consider, for example, their recent concerted effort to reduce the pesky federal budget deficit, which, shockingly, continues to mount.

Day after day, week after week, the top brains sat in a conference room, eating prune Danish supplied the the Prune Danish Division of the Bureau of Pastries of the U.S. Department of Refreshments at a cost of $2,350 per slice.

"What should we do about this pesky budget deficit?" the leaders asked, crumbs of concern dribbling from their mouths. "How can we reduce it? If only we had an idea! If only we could think of...."

"SPEND LESS MONEY, YOU CRETINS!!" shouted a group of cockroaches, who had been listening from the floor and managed to figure out the solution despite the handicap of not being top political brains. Unfortunately, however, our political leadership is not responsive to cockroaches, unless of course they operate savings-and-loans institutions.

Some radicals, however, feel we need to go still further, and actually improve the quality of GOVERNMENT, via simple, common-sense political reforms such as becoming a British colony again. Another increasingly popular idea is to give politicians terms of a specified length, which I think is an excellent idea. Twelve years sounds about right to me.

But no parole.

Letters

Reservist deserves prison sentence

I would like to respond to the DE's October, 25th article "Marchers protest for peace." I have a problem with the part concerning Ms. Atkinson.

The article quotes her as saying "When I was called, I was forced to make a decision then."

Well she made a decision when she voluntarily enlisted in the reserves.

She swore to follow the orders of the commander in chief, namely the President of the United States.

The article also states that she is opposed to all wars. Why would a person opposed to war join an organization whose primary purpose is to participate in armed conflicts?

As a person honorably discharged from the armed service, I do not see how Ms. Atkinson deserves the same.

Her actions demonstrate that, at best, she has earned an undesirable discharge.

She has not served her country in an honorable fashion and to give her an honorable discharge would insult those that have served their country with honor and those now serving in the gulf.

The government and taxpayers were ripped off for the money it invested in training and pay for Ms. Atkinson's reserve status.

A person with such high ideals should be willing to accept the consequences of her "decision."

A dishonorable discharge and a year in federal prison, in my opinion, is the appropriate response to her actions.—Robert F. Borst, senior in finance.

Editorial Policies

Signed articles, including letters, viewpoints and other commentaries, reflect the opinions of their authors only. Unsigned editorials represent a consensus of the Daily Egyptian Board.

Letters to the editor must be submitted directly to the editorial page editor, Room 1247, Communications Building. Letters should be typewritten and double spaced. All letters are subject to editing and will be limited to 500 words. Letters fewer than 250 words will be given preference for publication. Students must identify themselves by class and major, faculty members by rank and department, non-academic staff by position and department. Letters for which verification of authorship cannot be made will not be published.

was on the sidewalk by Pagliai's and was hit with it. It was on my sweater."

At 2:30 a.m. a group of about 350 people moved south along Route 51 to McAndrew Stadium but were prevented from entering by police.

The crowd used trash cans to smash the windows out of a parked van and stopped passing cars, pounding on them.

The most violent incident Friday night occurred when the mob entered the parking lot west of the stadium and confronted members of Alpha Phi Alpha, an African-American fraternity. Members were leaving a dance held at the Student Center.

Robert Street, sophomore undecided major, said people from the Strip were preventing cars from leaving the parking lot when one fight broke out. Observers said the fights appeared racially motivated.

"Everyone was running around wondering who was going to get jumped on by whom," Street said. "It was kind of crazy."

Kathy Odum, nursing supervisor at Memorial Hospital of Carbondale, said seven people were treated for minor injuries during the weekend, and police reported nine arrests.

Saturday night police closed Illinois Avenue and southbound traffic on Route 51 shortly after midnight before students tried to enter the street.

When students realized the Strip was closed to traffic, they wandered into the street, shouting "Take the Strip."

Carbondale Police Chief Ed Hogan said he closed off the street hoping it would prevent further confrontation Saturday night. But again, a group of about 300 students made their way to McAndrew.

A joint force of Carbondale and SIUC police used Mace to prevent the mob from reaching the stadium. The mob passed the police line and pushed down a section of fence on the southeast corner of the stadium.

The goal post had been removed by the University earlier, so police were quickly able to convince the mob to return to the Strip.

"They probably were not on campus more than 20 minutes that night," said Harris. "If I'd realized the goal post were what they were going to be after (all weekend), I would have taken them down Thursday."

Harris said he believes the events were not a result of Homecoming.

"This wasn't about Homecoming—it was all about Halloween," Harris said, noting most of the people who made their way to the stadium over the weekend were just exuberant and curious to see what the others would do.

"The students weren't mad or mean," he said, "except a very few who were older and probably not students."

This was the second year since the Carbondale City Council voted to repeal the Halloween Fair Days Ordinance, which allowed public consumption of alcohol in the sectioned-off streets.

More than 3,000 revellers last year marched through the streets of Carbondale, tearing down signs and street lights.

The crowd, larger and more unpredictable in 1989, confronted Carbondale Police and Illinois State Troopers, called in to prevent a riot.

City Manager Steve Hoffner said the city was fully prepared and not surprised by any of the events, and said he thinks the Carbondale police did an exceptional job during the weekend.

"I didn't even go in there as an SIUC student, I just wanted my own insurance to pay for the visit," he said.

SIUC insurance covered what Wallace's insurance didn't, he added. He said he was glad because he didn't want to have to pay the $40 left over.

The insurance has been set up this way to keep students from using the emergency room as a primary health care source instead of the Health Service, Baggott said.

There were 1,328 students who visited the emergency room last year, he said.

For the most part the Health Service can do almost anything that the emergency room can do because it has a full staff of doctors, an X-ray room and a lab, Baggott said.

If the policy for emergency room service is not clear for some students, they are encouraged to call the Health Service to see if their condition warrants an emergency room visit, Baggott said.

Students pay $152 a semester for health insurance but can be reimbursed if they have their own insurance, he said.

Each semester that a student wants a refund, he must come into the insurance office and fill out a refund form, said JoAnn Reese, a medical insurance specialist for SIUC.

"The first time a student comes in for a refund, he must bring the health insurance booklet from their plan so we can determine how much they will be refunded," she said.

The amount of a student's refund depends on the benefits of his outside coverage on his plan, Reese said.

drunk driving deaths, 500,000 newly insured drivers through his commitment to mandatory insurance and 50,000 adults taught to read under his education and adult literacy program.

Edgar opposes higher state taxes but favors keeping the state income tax at the current level so education will not lose $350 million from the surcharge.

Edgar has outlined 12 education initiatives which will require an estimated average increase of $70 million annually over the next four years.

Edgar supports a tax accountability amendment to make it more difficult for the General Assembly to raise taxes by requiring a three-fifths majority.

He also has pledged to veto any new programs that cannot be funded with existing revenues and establish a group of management experts from the private sector to make sure the state is running efficiently.

Edgar is committed to capping state employment under the governor's office. He has pledged to keep the same number of employees.

The cost of Edgar's drug initiative program is estimated $10 million.

HARTIGAN, from Page 3

Hartigan, 52, has served as attorney general since 1982. He also served as lieutenant governor from 1972 to 1976.

Between his terms as attorney general and lieutenant governor, Hartigan was the senior vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, where Hartigan was raised and now resides.

To replace money provided by the surcharge, Hartigan introduced a program to cut $573 million in state spending and 2,500 jobs.

Hartigan wants a commission to look at the incentives and to keep the ones which are meeting the goals of stimulating economic development and jobs, Burns said.

Hartigan said higher taxes should never be a first resort to solving problems.

With more than 25 tax increases during the last 14 years, Hartigan said he believes it is better not to continually tax voters and throw money at problems without looking at the results of that spending.

If the temporary surcharge is made permanent, it would be the largest permanent income tax in the state's history, Burns said.

In the attorney general's office, Hartigan has increased the budget less than 8 percent during the last seven years and has kept the same number of employees.

party on statewide ballot in future elections.

Independent candidates are required to gather about 25,000 signatures on a petition, but candidates for parties with statewide ballot status are only required to gather about 5,000 to 8,000 signatures, Fields said.

The Illinois Solidarity Party candidates had statewide ballot status this year because they had more than 5 percent of the vote in the last election, Fields said.

The Illinois Solidarity Party was formed in 1986 by Adlai Stevenson III.

Stevenson was running for governor on the Democratic ticket but formed his own party to avoid confusion with neo-fascist followers of Lyndon LaRouche also running as Democrats.

Stevenson received about 40 percent of the vote, so party candidates needed fewer signatures to get on the ballot this year.

"What we're working to do is maintain our ballot status," Fields said. "If we get 5 percent of the vote we can keep it alive."

Freshman crowned Miss Eboness 1990

By Jefferson Robbins
Staff Writer

Talent, passion and pride won Tonya Young the title of Miss Eboness 1990.

Young, a freshman in paralegal studies from Chicago, received the title Saturday night in a pageant presented by the Alpha Phi Alpha in front of a crowd of about 1,000 at Shryock Auditorium.

She was selected from 11 contestants by a judges' panel, which graded on poise, personality and audience response.

The talent portion of the show included dance pieces, dramatic readings and songs performed by contestants.

In a segment that brought the crowd to its feet, Young played the role of slave liberator Harriet Tubman and delivered a monologue about the value of freedom and the important role of black women in obtaining that freedom.

"I was really impressed with the winner," said Jeff Cleveland, a senior in aviation management from Chicago. "The research and pride that went into (her speech) impressed me."

In some cases, contestants had to overcome technical difficulties to get to the final round.

A dead microphone gave sophomore contestant Lenora Brown a chance to shine during her song as she set the microphone aside and sang unamplified, still managing to fill the theater with her voice. Her performance won her a standing ovation and pushed her into the semifinalist's circle.

Young won out over three other semifinalists, including Brown, a hotel and restaurant management major from Chicago; Teresa Hardy, a freshman in psychology from Rockford; and Sima Thernman, a freshman from Homewood.

"I tried out because I thought it would be a positive idea, to help uphold and uplift the black woman," Young said. "Winning Miss Eboness means that I exemplify what the black woman is and can be in society."

An impromptu question and answer session was a factor in Young's win. Asked what advice she would give her brother if he were called to service in the Persian Gulf, she replied, "I would tell him that I love him, God be with him and to serve his country as best he can."

The Miss Eboness title brings with it a $600 scholarship.

Blood drive seeks O+, O-, A- donors

By John Patterson
Staff Writer

The SIUC blood drive, attempting to break the world record set by the University of Missouri, received another challenge Sunday.

Vivian Ugent, Southern Illinois blood drive coordinator, said that because heart surgeries require large amounts of blood there is an immediate demand for O+, O- and A- blood types. These blood types account for more than 52 percent of the population.

"It is very important to collect enough blood to build up the inventory level," Ugent said.

Blood type O- is the universal donor that is needed to support A, B and AB patients. Ugent said over 46 percent of the population has type O- blood.

The Red Cross currently is in a "not for stock" situation for supplying the three types of blood, Ugent said. Blood is being supplied on a case-by-case need and cannot be released for blood to replenish bank supplies.

"We want to encourage people to honor their appointments to donate or walk in to donate due to the shortage," Ugent said. "We especially want to encourage people with the needed blood types to come in and donate."

Each hospital has a comfort zone for what they want in its blood banks. No matter how accurately they predict a need, the hospital cannot predict emergencies, Ugent said.

The SIUC blood drive started Sunday and continues through Friday. The Student Center will be set up for donors from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday except Wednesday when blood donations can be given from noon to 6 p.m. The Rec Center will also accept donations from 2 to 7 p.m. Friday.

The blood drive collected 84 pints in the first two hours Sunday afternoon.

"It's going okay," Ugent said. "We are trying to get people out early because of the shortage. Right now there is no waiting."

Ugent said the drive will be in full operation today in Student Center Ballroom D.

Music professor plays final concert at SIUC

By Melynda Findlay
Entertainment Editor

Harold Miller will say goodbye to Carbondale at the end of this semester.

The associate professor from the SIUC School of Music will leave his position here for a job at the Milwaukee Area Technical College in Wisconsin.

"I've been looking at this position for some time now," Miller said. "My wife's family is up there (in Milwaukee). I feel badly because I've made a lot of friends in Carbondale, but my family will be much happier near their relatives."

Miller and five SIUC faculty members will perform as the New Arts Jazz Sextet at 8 tonight in Shryock Auditorium. This "Farewell to Harold Miller Concert" will include original compositions by ensemble members Eric Mandat, Frank Stiemper and Michael Kruge. Other members of the group are Scott Ollar and Robert Allison.

Miller has been a faculty member at SIUC for 6 1/2 years. He teaches bass, jazz courses and Music 373, Rock and Pop Music. Miller calls this his "most popular" class, with about 450 students enrolling in the course each semester.

New Arts member Robert Allison will direct the SIUC Jazz Ensemble at 8 p.m. Thursday at Shryock Auditorium. The eighteen-member ensemble will perform a variety of pieces, including "Perdido" by Juan Tizol and "Portrait of Jenny," arranged by Mike Crotty.

Daniel Mellado, associate professor of music, will perform a cello recital at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Old Baptist Foundation Recital Hall. He will be accompanied by his wife, Faïrya, on violin, Eric Williams on viola and Donald Beattie, associate professor of music, on piano.

The program will include Suite in C Minor by J.S. Bach, Sonata in A Minor, "Arpeggione," by Schubert and Serenade, Opus 10, by Dohnanyi.

Candidate pledges fairness

By Omonpee O. Whitfield
Staff Writer

Gloria Thurston, republican candidate for the Illinois 1st Judicial Circuit, said she hopes to become the first woman elected to a full-time term judge of the circuit since 1978.

Thurston currently is a general practice attorney in Pulaski. She said that because of her educational background, her professional ground and personal experience, she feels she is qualified to hold the office of Judge of the 1st Judicial Circuit Court.

Thurston attended SIUC where she obtained a bachelor's degree in 1967 and a master's degree two years later.

She then went on to obtain a juris doctorate from St. Louis University in 1979.

Thurston has worked as both a teacher and an attorney. From 1967 to 1976 Thurston taught at Egyptian Elementary Schools and elementary schools in Alexander County. She then served as

Gloria Thurston

Assistant Attorney General from November 1979 until November 1980.

In 1980, Thurston was elected Pulaski County State's Attorney and served one four-year term. From November 1986 until December 1987, she served as a public defender for Alexander County.

Thurston said that in addition to feeling professionally qualified to hold the office of circuit court judge, she also feels that she has a sense of fairness, needed to properly perform the duties of a circuit court judge.

"I honestly believe I have a commitment of fairness to people," Thurston said.

Thurston also said she considers every circuit judge an individual with different ways of doing things.

Therefore, she said, she would not make any specific changes in the operation of the office if she were elected.

Thurston said, however, she would run the office as fairly as possible and try to alleviate what she called the "good old boy" system of government.

"We need to get away from the 'good old boy' system," Thurston said. "It is easier to appear before judges when they are your drinking buddies—when they are your social buddies. Judges should get out into the working people. There should be more perspective on the bench."

Two parties fight for Illinois voters

MOLINE, (UPI) — Democrats and Republicans crisscrossed Illinois Sunday in separate statewide flyarounds less than 48 hours before voters go to the polls, each group touching Chicago and landing almost simultaneously in Moline.

In Chicago, U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Ill., predicted Democrats would sweep on Tuesday.

"Paul Simon will win by 700,000 (votes) and everybody else by a substantial margin," said Dixon while declining to reveal on what he based his "fearless forecast."

Dixon, Simon, gubernatorial contender Neil Hartigan and Rep. Lane Evans focused on the issue of change in the Moline appearance.

"It's time for a change in Illinois, real change. The Republicans don't have any credibility on taxes, on road repairs, on anything," Hartigan said.

"They've had 14 years to deliver and failed. There's a clear choice. We get a chance next Tuesday to send the loudest and clearest message — we want a change," Hartigan said.

Hartigan again hammered his opposition to extending the state income tax surcharge.

"People were promised two years ago it was temporary. This is a promise Jim Edgar would not keep. I think it's time we keep our word with people of Illinois. My answer to the surcharge is no, absolutely no."

Simon and Dixon both rebutted Republican criticism of the centralization of the Democratic ticket in Cook County.

"I thought it was one state," Dixon said.

Neil Hartigan Could Cost You $468

IF HE IS ELECTED GOVERNOR!

THAT'S RIGHT, NEIL HARTIGAN WANTS TO TAKE AN ADDITIONAL $468 OUT OF YOUR POCKET

WHY? BECAUSE HE IS AGAINST CONTINUING THE INCOME TAX SURCHARGE WHICH EARMARKED 100 MILLION ADDITION DOLLARS FOR HIGHER EDUCATION.

IT WILL TAKE A 30% INCREASE IN YOUR TUITION TO MAKE UP FOR THE SHORTFALL, OR $468 AT SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY!

JIM EDGAR SUPPORTS EXTENDING THE TAX SURCHARGE AND YOUR EDUCATION!

Yes, Neil Hartigan says he has a budget plan. It has been labeled, "a blatant fraud" by the Chicago Tribune and "a fantasy" by the State Journal Register. Crain's Chicago Business called it "smoke & mirrors" while the Southern Economist said "It would cripple school systems that are restricted by law from raising property tax."

Still rocking after all the years

Concert Review

By Douglas Tuole
Staff Writer

Damn Yankees and Bad Company proved in their concert Friday night at the SIU Arena that older musicians can rock just as hard as new talent today.

Damn Yankees gave an explosive hard-rock set that radiated energy. Its music was fierce, its attitudes were fun and lead guitarist Ted Nugent probably didn't stop smiling for more than a couple seconds of the band's one-hour show.

Bad Company showed that although losing main singer-songwriter Paul Rogers had its cost on the band, it didn't signal the end of its 17-year career.

The band's older material was more well-received by the audience, but the songs off their latest album, "Holy Water," showed that the band's new musical direction still packs a punch.

Damn Yankees opened the show at 8 p.m. with "Damn Yankees," a cut from its self-titled debut album.

The songs "Bad Reputation" and "Rock City" were bright and energetic, and "Come Again" featured the vocal harmony of Jack Blades, wearing an SIU T-shirt, and Tommy Shaw and his acoustic guitar work.

Nugent clearly was the highlight of the act. Looking as intimidating as a professional wrestler and bounding around the stage like a high-impact aerobics instructor on fast-forward, the so-called "Motor City Madman" shook the arena with his guitar work.

Going back to its earlier work,

Ted Nugent of the Damn Yankees performs for a small, but enthusiastic crowd Friday night at the Arena.

Nugent played "Free-for-All" and "Cat Scratch Fever" from his 1970s solo work. Shaw played "Renegade" from his days in Styx, and Blades sang "(You Can Still) Rock in America" from Night

Ranger, his old band, featuring a Nugent guitar solo to the opening strains of the national anthem (a la Jimi Hendrix at Woodstock.)

TIME FOR A CHANGE

Tired of your tax dollars being squandered on a jail built twice the size we need? Utilities $12,000-$15,000 per month plus built it over a sink hole. This is just an example of how your money is being spent. Any wonder our County is broke. Restore common sense to County Government! We recommend the following candidates: (Punch 13)

CHARLES H. 'CHUCK' DAUGHERTY
REPUBLICAN FOR STATE
REPRESENTATIVE 116th Dist.

DISTRICT 6
HARRY LIPE

DISTRICT 2
MARK HOLT

Raised in Nashville, IL, President of Methodist Church Youth Group, Eagle Scout, Veteran (USAF), SIU graduate (design), pilot. Lives in Carbondale with wife Cheryl, children: Amanda and Karen Daugherty and Darrin and Steohnie Peach. Owned and operated Daugherty, Inc., worked at SIU in public relations, active and leadership rolls in local, state, and national organizations. Experience in both the public and private sectors. Wants better for Southern Illinois.

Harry Lipe is a member of the City of Carbondale Planning Commission and has been for the past 15 years. He is a self-employed, semi-retired construction worker, who is also a Navy Veteran of World War II. Harry is married to Betty Lea and they are both lifelong residents of Jackson County and have raised two children.

Mark Holt, a respectable business man, is store manager of the Murphysboro IGA. He is a lifelong Jackson County resident and a graduate of Southern Illinois University. Mark is a member of the Murphysboro Chamber of Commerce and currently is president of the Murphysboro Kiwanis Club. He and his wife Gail live in Jacob with their two sons.

Larry G. Smith lives in Carbondale, graduated from Carbondale Community High School, attended John A. Logan College and Southern Illinois University. He served in the United States Navy and is employed as a sales manager for Chemco Easy Care in Carbondale. Larry and his wife have 2 children and live in Carbondale.

Ginger L. Lynch was born and educated in Jackson County. She has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business from Southern Illinois University. She has experience in Youth Services, was a student trustee at John A. Logan College, and is currently a Licensed Ordained Evangelist. Ginger is the mother of four daughters and lives in Carbondale. A Republican she was called to be and a Jackson County Board member she feels she must be.

Don Prossor is presently serving as an effective County Board member and is seeking re-election. He has been an attorney for 15 years and is a member of the law firm of Gilbert, Kimmel, Huffman, and Prossor, Ltd. Don is a life-long resident of Jackson County, is an active member of the Carbondale Library Board and is involved in different community organizations. He also teaches Business Law at Southern Illinois University.

Poetic musicians rock SIU Arena; Dylan woos with words not tunes

By Rennie Walker
Staff Writer

Not much of a gap separated the opening group and the rock legend Saturday night at the SIU Arena.

Wiretrain had to work hard for a response from the audience while Bob Dylan didn't have to do so much as move a finger in order to draw out twice the ruckus from the audience. It was clear exactly who was the legend and who was the fresh talent.

Still, Kevin Hunter, the lyricist and lead singer of Wiretrain and Dylan are of similar molds.

Both have an elusive style. Hunter stalked around the stage between lyrics, and for long lengths of time turned his back, seemingly avoiding the audience.

Dylan wore an oversized white hat and, although it was fashionable, his face was invisible. He didn't remove it once during the performance.

Neither can be considered rude, but both can be considered aloof, leaving the audience wishing Hunter would be more direct and Dylan would quit hiding under his hat and reveal his face.

Both are poetical songwriters.

Concert Review

The difference is that while Dylan relies on words even more than music, Hunter is a minimalist.

On the other hand, Hunter's strong voice and poetical lyrics have brought him to where he stands now with four successful albums and five music videos. After all, Wiretrain is not small time.

Still, it all comes down to the new talent put up against one of the biggest names ever scheduled at the Arena.

"Let me tell you about our job," Hunter said between songs. "Our job is to warm you up for—"

Dylan only did four songs that he is well-known for, and the others were from his new album. If the words rang clearer over the sound system, the audience would have understood the more unfamiliar ones.

None of the songs were sung as they were recorded.

Dylan twists the emphasis of his words around. Each time he sings the lyrics roll out of his mouth spontaneously rather than the fixed way the song is on a soundtrack.

After all, Dylan is a poet, not a singer. He is concerned with the message, not necessarily the sound.

When Dylan took his guitar off his shoulder at 10:30, the audience knew it was over. They screamed and clapped in hopes of more, but after two and a half hours of quality music, it really wasn't necessary.

The concert was satisfying, encores or no encores.

Concert, from Page 10

Nugent assured the audience that Damn Yankees would be around for a while.

These four musicians have a chemistry together and look like they're having a blast.

The audience seemed to react to this, but it's hard not to enjoy yourself when your hair is being blown back by a Ted "Gonzo" Nugent guitar solo.

The set ended with "Coming of Age" and Nugent, laying flat on his back as he held the last note, being dragged by his feet from the stage by Shaw and Blades.

Bad Company gave the audience a different approach to rock music. The five-member band had a softer edge, relying less on flash and energy and more on the strength of their songs.

Most of Bad Company's set drew from the band's earlier work, with songs like "Rock and Roll Fantasy," "Movin' On," and "Ready For Love." New vocalist Brian Howe has a harsher voice than Paul Rogers', and the older songs occasionally sounded uneven because of it.

The newer songs, like "Shake It Up" and "Boys Cry Tough" sounded more comfortable to the musicians, but lacked audience recognition.

Highlights of the set included guitarist Mick Raliths' extended solo in "Ready For Love" and when founding drummer Simon Kirke picked up a guitar and played "Shooting Star" by himself on stage.

The band closed with "Can't Get Enough" and played "Holy Water" and "Bad Company" as encores.

Before leaving, Howe gave an unprintable message to everyone who thinks Bad Company is too old to rock. He's right.

Kenya's Wakiihuri wins New York City Marathon

Mexico's Wanda Panfil takes first place in women's division with time of 2:30:45

NEW YORK (UPI) — Douglas Wakiihuri of Kenya, the silver medalist at the Seoul Olympics, broke free from a pack of four with six miles to go Sunday to win the New York City Marathon on an uncomfortably hot day.

Making his first marathon appearance in North America, Wakiihuri took off on his own after 20 miles, when he gained a lead of 34 seconds over Salvador Garcia of Mexico.

Wakiihuri, who trains in Japan, never was threatened thereafter as he completed the 26-mile, 385-yard course through New York's five boroughs in 2 hours, 12 minutes, 39 seconds.

With the race ending in a temperature of 72 degrees, Wakiihuri's time was the slowest winning time for the marathon since 1984.

"I was feeling very good and was very relaxed, and I saw nobody was coming," the 27-year-old Kenyan said. "I saw their reaction and saw they couldn't come with me, so I decided to go."

"The performance I did today under the conditions was the best I could do. I did my best today, and that's all I can do."

"It was really hard. We knew from the start we wouldn't make a good time; everybody was sweating before the race. I was even having problems with my legs."

Garcia, a sergeant in the Mexican army, was second in 2:13:19 and Britton Steve Brace was third in 2:13:32. Garcia was bleeding from blisters on both feet, and feels he would have won if this had not happened.

Brace finished the race with a headache from the humidity and the noise made by the huge throng — including numerous bands — that lined the course.

Juma Ikangaa of Tanzania, the defending champion, was fourth in 2:14:32 and John Campbell, a 41-year-old New Zealander, was fifth, setting a Masters record for the New York race of 2:14:34 in what he called the greatest achievement of his life.

For the first time, no American was able to break into the top 20. The first American man was Mohamed Idris of New York, 22nd in 2:22:23.

Bill Rodgers, a four-time winner of the New York Marathon, withdrew in the morning because of illness and Ken Martin of Dallas, the 1989 runner-up, had to withdraw after 18 miles because of weakness. It was the first time he ever has pulled out of a marathon.

Martin has been troubled by a mysterious ailment the last two months and the lack of training took away his endurance.

"Mentally I was in the race but physically I just wasn't ready," he said.

Wanda Panfil, a Polish-born resident of Mexico, won the women's division in 2:30:45, the slowest time since Grete Waitz earned the first of her nine New York marathons in 1978.

"Because of the weather I couldn't run faster," the 31-year-old Panfil said with her husband, Mexican Olympian Msuricio Gonzalez, serving as interpreter. "I've never run before in such hot weather, and it's the first time I drank water during a race and I felt a little pain in my stomach."

Kim Jones of Spokane, Wash., making up a lot of time in the final mile through Central Park, finished second in 2:30:50, continuing her string of never placing worse than fifth in a marathon she finishes.

Katrin Dorre of Germany, running her first marathon in two years after having a baby, was third in 2:33:21 and Waitz, a nine-time New York champion, never was a factor, placing fourth in 2:34:34. This was her first marathon since she won New York in 1988, and she was pleased with her performance following a series of injuries.

"I came into this race with open eyes, and I knew it was a hard competition," said the 37-year-old Norwegian. "Like everybody else I was hoping to win the race, but I knew it was going to be hard. It was very important just to finish, and I know I can compete again."

Both Wakiihuri and Panfil registered their third consecutive victories in marathons, and each won $26,385, plus a Mercedes-Benz valued at $34,000.

After 20 miles, Wakiihuri, Garcia and Ikangaa were tied for the lead, with Brace four seconds behind. Wakiihuri broke the race open with a 4:56 mile, at which point he built a 16-second lead.

Another mile further he was in front of Garcia by 25 seconds, and he ran alone the rest of the way.

Panfil led the women from the 10th mile, and with four miles to go she enjoyed an advantage of 41 seconds over Jones. The American narrowed this deficit to five seconds at the end.

Iowa saves victory dance for Rose Bowl, leads Big 10

CHICAGO (UPI) — Iowa Coach Hayden Fry may not have danced his postgame hockey pokey after his team's convincing 54-28 victory over Illinois, but you can bet he did a private jig in his office.

The Hawkeyes, now ranked fifth in the country in UPI's latest coaches poll, plan on dancing all the way to the Rose Bowl.

"If they play like that, they can beat anybody, anytime, anywhere," Illinois Coach John Mackovic said.

Iowa's stunning win over Illinois on the road boosted the Hawkeyes into sole possession of first place at 5-0, 7-1 overall. The Illini, 6-2 overall and headed for Michigan next week, dropped into a tie for second place with Minnesota at 4-1, and down nine notches to No. 15 in UPI's poll.

In other Big Ten games Saturday, No. 17 Michigan routed Purdue 38-13, Ohio State trounced

Northwestern 48-7, Minnesota edged Wisconsin 21-3 and Michigan State beat Indiana 45-20.

Iowa, which has also beaten Michigan and Michigan State on the road, scored on its first five possessions, including two touchdown runs by Nick Bell who finished with 168 rushing yards in the game.

"Never in my wildest dreams did I think our offense could go against the great defense of Illinois with all those people returning from last year and just chop them up," Fry said.

Bell and backfield teammate Tony Stewart sliced their way through the Illini defense, totaling 269 yards. Consider Iowa gained 540 yards in total offense against what was the best defense in the Big Ten.

"They were jamming the ball down our throats and we were taking it," said Illinois linebacker Darrick Brownlow. "I was out there saying, 'Wow, I can't believe this. They're scoring every time they get the ball.'"

Overshadowed by the loss was a fine performance by Illini quarterback Jason Verduzco, who completed 32 of 51 attempts for 358 yards, a personal best. But it wasn't enough.

"I've been beat worse than this," Mackovic said. "It's not like this is something that never happened before. But it hurts."

But why didn't the Hawkeyes dance?

"This wasn't big enough," Iowa cornerback Merton Hanks said. "We're going to save the hokey pokey. If we're fortunate, we'll do it at home in about two more games."

Ohio State, which moved into UPI's top 25 ratings at No. 24, is next.

Rutledge brings Redskins back to 41-38 win

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI) — Jeff Rutledge entered Sunday's game as a backup quarterback with a 21-point deficit.

He finished with a victory and a starting job.

In between he engineered the biggest comeback in the NFL this season. He completed 30 of 42 passes for 363 yards and a touchdown, ran 12 yards for the tying TD with 18 seconds left in the fourth quarter and moved Washington in position for Chip Lohmiller's 34-yard overtime field goal.

Lohmiller's kicked lifted the Redskins to a 41-38 victory over the Detroit Lions.

"I think I'd be hung from something if I didn't start Jeff next week," Redskins Coach Joe Gibbs said after Rutledge directed five scoring drives in relief of Stan Humphries.

Rutledge entered the game in the third quarter with the Lions ahead 35-14. He brought the Redskins to their 12th straight triumph over Detroit, and kept Washington, 5-3, in the lead of the NFC wild-card race.

"It's something I'll always look back on if I never play another game," said Rutledge, who played in only one game each of the last two seasons while with the New York Giants.

"To be able to come to Washington (as a Plan B free agent) and get the chance to play is a dream come true. I didn't know if I'd ever get to play ... I may never get to play again, but you can't take away today," said the 13-year veteran from Alabama.

"I told my wife earlier in the week I thought I was going to get a chance to play," Rutledge continued. "I don't know why. I just had a gut feeling. Maybe it was wishful thinking."

The Lions opened a 35-14 lead early in the third quarter on Barry Sanders' 45-yard burst up the middle on a draw play, two plays after Bennie Blades registered the third interception off Humphries.

Rutledge entered on the next series. He completed all three of his passes in a 63-yard scoring march, including a 33-yarder to Ricky Sanders that took the Redskins to the Detroit 10. Two plays later Gerald Riggs scored from the 3.

Rich Kariis kicked a 25-yard field goal with 11 seconds left in the third quarter to give Detroit a 38-21 lead, but Lohmiller answered with a 38-yarder.

Rutledge took Washington 80 yards in 7 plays on its next possession, hitting Gary Clark for a 34-yard touchdown with 5:49 left. Clark caught the pass at the 20, dodged two tacklers and raced into the end zone to make it 38-31.

Big plays bring San Diego 31-14 win over Seahawks

SEATTLE (UPI) — Three touchdowns on three big plays have the San Diego Chargers believing in themselves.

The Chargers used a long pass play, a punt return and a fumble recovery in the end zone to hand the Seattle Seahawks a 31-14 defeat in the Kingdom Sunday.

The big plays: Billy Joe Tolliver's 45-yard scoring pass to Quinn Early, putting the Chargers ahead 14-7 at halftime; rookie Nate Lewis's 63-yard punt return late in the third quarter; and Les Miller's recovery of a Dave Krieg fumble 33 seconds later, which gave the Chargers a 31-7 lead.

Quarterback Billy Joe Tolliver said the young Chargers, 4-5 and winners of three of their last four games, are beginning to mature.

"Over the last four weeks we have played some excellent football games," said Tolliver, who completed 11 of 24 passes for 145 yards and two touchdowns. "We won three and lost to the Raiders, and at the time they were better."

Defensive end Leslie O'Neal, whose 30-yard sack of Krieg led to Miller's touchdown, said the two quick scores took the Kingdom crowd out of the game.

"I've never seen a crowd here as quiet as they were in the second half," said O'Neal, who had two sacks, forced a fumble and batted down two passes. "Scoring so fast took the crowd right out of the game. That's usually one of their assets."

The Chargers went ahead 31-7 when Krieg, dropping back to pass from his 30, had the ball slip backwards out of his hand as he tried to throw long under heavy pressure from O'Neal. The ball bounced 15 yards into the end zone, where Miller beat two teammates to it.

Lewis, a seventh-round draft choice out of NAIA Division II Oregon Tech, ran right up the middle of Seattle's punt coverage without being touched by his TD.

"I had to lose one guy and went from there," Lewis said. "I wasn't touched. When I felt guys behind me, I knew no one would catch me. I wasn't going to let no kicker get me. That's embarrassing."

The Seahawks, 3-5, had won eight straight Kingdom games over the Chargers, dating to 1980.

The Seahawks were outscored 17-0 in the third quarter, and were held to minus 45 yards in the period. O'Neal, Les Williams and Gerald Robinson each had a sack of Krieg in the third for a combined minus-49 yards.

"We were still in the game when we were down 17-7 and then in short span of about three plays they got 14 points," Seattle Coach Chuck Knox said. "But they earned it. They played better than we did. Our effort was there, but we could not make the big plays and they did."

UNH hockey coach dies at 41

DURHAM, N.H. — Robert Kullen, a former head hockey coach at the University of New Hampshire who skated on a silver medal-winning U.S. Olympic hockey team, has died after a brief illness. He was 41.

Kullen died Saturday morning in Wentworth-Douglass Hospital in Dover.

He was named last year's New England Division I Coach of the Year, one year after he received a heart transplant. He suffered from a rare form of heart disease.

A native of Milton, Kullen was an All American hockey player at Bowdoin College in Maine, where he was named most valuable player of the ECAC Championships in his senior season of 1970-71. A year later, he skated on the U.S. Olympic team that received the silver medal in Romania.

Kullen began coaching at Lawrence Academy after graduating from Bowdoin. He started his tenure with UNH as a graduate assistant in 1977. He became a varsity assistant coach the next season and was named head coach in 1986.

But at the end of that first year as head coach, Kullen was diagnosed with the heart disease. He received a heart transplant in August 1987 and aided interim coaches during the next year of recovery.

Wedemeier field goal and a Leatherneck scoring run by Bernar Holloway. For the most part, the two offenses couldn't make much headway.

With time starting to become a factor, Hochertz recovered a Leatherneck fumble to give the Salukis life on WIU's 27-yard line. From there, Downey, who chipped in with 113 yards passing, used his feet as much as his arm to move the Salukis to the WIU 2-yard line. He even bowled over a Leatherneck defender on a third- and 18-scramble, to just get a first down.

The Dawgs scored as Moore kept his feet and drove a pile of defenders into the end zone to make the score 24-22.

The defense stopped Western again and Downey was back to marching the offense on its final drive. Despite big plays such as another long catch and run by Oliver, the Dawgs had to settle for Wedemeier's kick, which fell just short.

"We overcame a lot of their big plays," Smith said. "It was a tough loss. It was a real helmet busting game and our kids stayed tough all the way through. The crowd was good the whole way too."

Bieniemy has dream day for Colorado

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — The first three quarters against No. 2 Nebraska were a nightmare for Colorado tailback Eric Bieniemy. The fourth quarter, however, was a dream come true.

Bieniemy scored four fourth-quarter touchdowns Saturday to lead No. 7 Colorado to a 27-12 victory over No. 2 Nebraska, placing the Buffaloes in a strong position to win its second straight Big Eight title.

Bieniemy, the leading rusher in the nation, scored on runs of 1, 2 and 3 and 5 yards as the Buffaloes, 3-1-1, erased a 12-0 deficit. Bieniemy finished with 137 yards on 38 carries.

"In the fourth quarter, I wasn't second-guessing myself," Bieniemy said. "I just knew if I could do my job and play well and play hard, things would take care of themselves."

Colorado Coach Bill McCartney said Bieniemy was being his own worst enemy.

"Nobody felt worse than he did when I told him to cover up the football better and rebound from adversity and he did," McCartney said.

Said quarterback Darian Hagan: "We just got on him (Bieniemy) about fumbling. He likes to be harassed. That's the kind of player he is."

The victory pushes the Buffaloes to 8-1-1 and puts them one victory away from clinching the Big Eight championship and a return trip to the Orange Bowl. Nebraska fell to 8-1.

Colorado closes the regular season with Big Eight games against Oklahoma State and Kansas State. Nebraska finishes with Kansas and Oklahoma.

Colorado players left the field yelling "there's a new boss in the Big Eight" after years of domination by Oklahoma and Nebraska.

"Last year, everyone was questioning if it was a fluke," said Colorado offensive tackle Mark Vander Pool. "Now, we've proven we're a real football team and we don't have to take a back seat to the Big Reds (Nebraska and Oklahoma)."

Colorado defeated Oklahoma 32-23 last week, also coming from behind to win that game.

"What we're talking about here is a group of guys who won't be beat and can't be beat," McCartney said. "That's what we've developed since we were 1-1-1 this season."

Colorado's 27 points are the most scored against a Nebraska team in the fourth quarter since the statistic began being kept in 1945.

Colorado has been behind in every game this season except against Kansas.

"Fans have made us out to be the cardiac Colorado Buffaloes," Bieniemy said. "We've come through in a lot of different games."

Nebraska players and coaches were somewhat shocked afterward.

"I think we probably played the first three quarters well enough to put it away," Huskers Coach Tom Osborne said. "We missed a couple scoring opportunities and that hurt. At the end of the third quarter and the fourth quarter, they got some things going."

Said quarterback Mickey Joseph: "It hurts because we were capable of winning the game. Going into the fourth quarter, we thought we would win."

Brister passes Steelers past Falcons 21-9

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers sleep-walked through the first half Sunday but woke up in time to bury the Atlanta Falcons.

Trailing 9-0 at halftime, the Steelers rallied for a 21-9 triumph behind two Bubby Brister touchdown passes, a 70-yard TD run by Warren Williams and four Atlanta turnovers.

The victory boosted the Steelers to 5-4 and into a tie with Cincinnati for first place in the AFC Central division. The Falcons' first loss in three games against an AFC Central team dropped them to 3-5.

Though the big plays will get all the headlines, it was the Steelers' workmanlike defense in scoring territory during the first half that kept them close. The Steelers showed some of the effects from playing last Monday night, a 42-10 rout of the Los Angeles Rams.

Atlanta drove inside Pittsburgh's 30 five times during the first two quarters and got just three Greg Davis field goals of 41, 43 and 38 yards, for its efforts. Davis also missed a 42-yard try in the first half and missed another, from 40 yards, in the third quarter.

"We were bending, but we weren't breaking," said Pittsburgh cornerback Rod Woodson.

"It took us a little while to get untracked," said Coach Chuck Noll. "Monday night games make it that way, but we hung in there."

Veteran cornerback Dwayne Woodruff sounded the wake-up alarm for Pittsburgh on the last play of the first half, intercepting a Chris Miller pass at the Steelers 17 and returning it 59 yards as time ran out.

The tide began turning in Pittsburgh's direction early in the third quarter. Atlanta's opening drive ended in Davis' 40-yard miss, and Pittsburgh took over on its 23. On first down, Brister and Derek Hill connected on a 66-yard pass, and two plays later Brister got Pittsburgh on the scoreboard with an 11-yard TD strike to Louis Lipps.

Atlanta's next two drives ended in interceptions, one by Woodson and one by Larry Griffin, who returned his steal 24 yards to the Atlanta 36 to atone for his fumble on the game-opening kickoff.

Three plays after Griffin's interception and 2:35 into the fourth quarter, Pittsburgh went ahead for good on Brister's 19-yard TD pass to Mike Mularky.

"We lost the game ourselves," said Atlanta defensive end Mike Gann. "There's not any one person to blame. We lost concentration. We had a great first half, and then I just don't know what happened."

Atlanta had a couple opportunities to get back in the game: Williams fumbled the ball away to Robert Lyles on the Atlanta 46. But about 11 minutes left to play, but the Falcons' drive ended when Donald Evans' tipped Miller's fourth-down pass to Andre Rison.

Nick Lowery kicks three field goals to give Chiefs 9-7 win over Raiders

Lowery overtakes Garo Yepremian on NFL scoring list

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Kevin Porter blocked a punt and Albert Lewis recovered a fumble to set up two of Nick Lowery's three field goals Sunday, lifting the Kansas City Chiefs to a 9-7 victory over the Los Angeles Raiders.

Lowery kicked field goals of 36 yards, 48 yards and 41 yards for Kansas City, giving him 1,079 career points and moving him past Garo Yepremian into 13th place on the National Football League's career scoring list.

The Chiefs, 5-3, pulled within one game of the first-place Raiders, 6-2, in the American Football Conference West.

The Kansas City defense frustrated the Raiders, limiting AFC passing leader Jay Schroeder to 10 completions in 31 attempts for 139 yards and one interception.

Still, the Raiders led 7-6 on Steve Smith's 2-yard run on the opening play of the fourth quarter.

Kansas City answered with a 42-yard march — its longest of the day — and settled for Lowery's 41-yard kick with 11:58 left on the clock for the game-winner over the Raiders.

The first four possessions ended in a punt. On the fifth, Porter broke cleanly up the middle to block Jeff Gossett's punt. The blocked punt was the Chiefs' fifth of the 1990-91 season, setting a team record.

Porter recovered at the Raiders 17-yard line. The Chiefs lost a yard over three plays, but Lowery converted a 36-yard field goal to open the scoring in the game.

On the Raiders' next play, safety Deron Cherry forced a Bo Jackson fumble that Lewis recovered. Cherry played in his first game of the year after coming off injured reserve.

The Chiefs lost 7 yards after the recovery, but Lowery came through again with a 48-yard field goal just before the end of the first quarter.

The Raiders' touchdown was set up by a fumbled punt by Naz Worthen of Kansas City. Elvis Patterson recovered for Los Angeles at the Chiefs 26, and Smith scored six plays later, but it was not enough as Lowery once again let his foot do the work for the Chiefs.

Kansas City opened its next possession with a 19-yard pass reception by Alfredo Roberts and a 14-yard gain by Barry Word. Four plays later Lowery kicked his third field goal.

Buffalo tied at top after 42-0 victory

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Buffalo's 42-0 pounding of Cleveland Sunday left the Bills tied for first in the AFC East with a 7-1 record and Browns' head coach Bud Carson worried about his future.

It was the worst home loss ever for the Browns, their worst-ever shutout loss, and most lopsided defeat since a 51-3 loss at Minnesota Nov. 9, 1969.

The loss was the fourth straight for Cleveland, dropping them to 2-7, and with Carson's job in jeopardy for several weeks, the Bills may have sealed his fate with an off week coming up.

"Absolutely," Carson said when asked if he was worried about his job. "I've got to go home and think about it myself. To be honest with you, the last thing I want to do is be part of a football team that can't win. If I'm that part of it, then I'll know it and I'll step away from it."

Thurman Thomas scored three touchdowns, Darryl Talley returned an interception 60 yards for another score, and the Buffalo defense limited Cleveland to just 10 first downs as the Bills won for the sixth straight game to remain tied with Miami atop the AFC East. It was the largest margin of victory in Buffalo history.

Thomas scored on runs of 3 and 11 yards and caught an 11-yard scoring pass from Jim Kelly. Buffalo's other points came on a 1-yard run by Jamie Mueller and a 3-yard run by Kenneth Davis.

Kelly completed 14 of 19 passes for 200 yards and was not intercepted. Thomas, who caught 13 passes in Cleveland's 34-30 win in a January AFC Divisional playoff game, ran 17 times for 58 yards and caught 5 passes for 65 yards.

Buffalo's Andre Reed had 7 receptions for 122 yards, and Cleveland's Ozzie Newsome had 3 catches for 40 yards to give him 651 for his career and move him past Charley Taylor (649) into fourth place on the all-time reception list.

"It was one of those games that was tight for a while, especially because of a couple of our defensive stands," said Buffalo Coach Marv Levy.

"When you have a team down and time really begins to run out, some big plays occur, such as the Talley interception.

"Surely 42-0 is not indicative of the difference between these teams. These kinds of games sometimes happen."

Cleveland owner Art Modell, who has not done anything to give Carson any measure of job security, surely also believes that his team is not 42 points worse than the Bills. There have been reports the Browns would fire Carson after the Buffalo game and replace him on interim basis with offensive coordinator Jim Shofner, but there was no immediate announcement after the game from the team.

Since being hired in 1989, Carson has an overall regular season record of 11-14, but the slow start this year has erased memories of last year's trip to the AFC Championship game.

Carson tried to jump start the sluggish Cleveland offense by starting Mike Pagel at quarterback over Bernie Kosar, but the Browns managed to put together just three drives of consequence all day, with the first two ending with botched field goal attempts and Talley ending the third with his first interception of the day in the third quarter.

Pagel completed 16 of 38 passes for 195 yards.

"Give them credit," Pagel said, "they played great defense. Forty-two to nothing is not going to keep you up. As an athlete, you can't be up now."

Oilers falter at goal line in 17-13 loss to Rams

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — The Los Angeles Rams watched the Houston Oilers enter the "red zone" with relative ease Sunday — then watched them leave with red faces.

The Oilers' frustration inside the opponent's 20-yard line continued for a second straight game. Houston, which lost two fumbles at the 1 in a loss to the Jets last week, managed only two field goals in five drives in the red zone this week, and fell 17-13 to Los Angeles.

"That's been a real problem," center Jay Pennison said. "We are breaking down when we get close to the goal line."

The latest breakdown came with 40 seconds to play Sunday when Bobby Humphrey, who intercepted Warren Moon in the end zone with 6:12 minutes left, knocked away a fourth-down pass near the goal line to preserve the triumph.

Moon was also intercepted by Darryl Henley at the 2-yard line near the end of the first half and had two potential TD passes dropped.

"We didn't cash in in 'plus territory' inside the 20," said Moon. "They would drop eight people back with their four linebackers included. We tried to do it with the pass. We just didn't do it."

Jim Everett threw for 215 yards and one touchdown — his 100th in the NFL — and Cleveland Gary rushed for 87 yards and another score as the Rams improved to 3-5 despite failing to score in the second half.

Moon, who entered with just one interception in his last 156 throws, completed 26 of 43 passes for 343 yards but was picked off twice. He did throw a 40-yard scoring pass to former Ram Drew Hill in the first quarter.

Everett went 19 of 27 for 215 yards and one interception. His TD pass went to tight end Damone Johnson for 2 yards in the second period.

The Rams rebounded after a 41-10 loss at Pittsburgh Monday night.

"My heart feels a lot better today than it did last week," Coach John Robinson said. "In fact, my heart is always better after games like this."

"I can't tell you why we're so bad some games and so good other games. There seems to be a lot of that going on in the NFL — but we seem to be the leader."

With Houston trailing 17-13, Bubba McDowell blocked a punt by Los Angeles' Keith English, and the Oilers took over at the Rams' 43 with 9:06 left. It was the second English punt blocked in as many weeks.
